DEDICATION

WE, THE STUDENT BODY, DO HUMBLY
DEDICATE THIS "QUILL PEN" TO ALL
THOSE GIRLS WHO PASS FROM THESE
WALLS—FOR THEIRS IS THE TRUE
SPIRIT OF SALEM.

Standing at the Portal

Standing at the portal
Of the opening year,
Words of comfort meet us,
Hushing ev'ry fear:
Spoken through the silence
By our Father's voice,
Tender, strong, and faithful,
Making us rejoice.

"I the Lord am with thee,
Be thou not afraid!
I will help and strengthen,
Be thou not dismayed!
Yes, I will uphold thee,
With My own right hand;
Thou art called and chosen,
In My sight to stand."

He will never fail us,
He will not forsake,
His eternal covenant
He will never break;
Resting on His promise,
What have we to fear?
God is All-Sufficient
For the coming year!

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

State of North Carolina
County of Forsyth
City of Winston-Salem
Salem Academy

To whom it may concern:

We, the Class of nineteen hundred forty-four, being supposedly of sound mind and body and realizing the uncertainty of this life do hereby publish and declare this to be our last will and testament.

Article I

To the faculty as a whole we leave our appreciation for their helpful instruction and loving guidance.

Article II

To the coming Senior Class we leave our beloved privileges and honor study halls hoping that they mean as much to them as they have to us.

Article III

Ann Abernethy leaves her femininity to M. C. Bracken. Betty Ashe wills her silent nature to Rose Ann Jordan. Archer Bennett leaves two inches of her legs to Jean Dunlap.

Frances Bluhm leaves her photographic mind to Ann Cooke.

Jean Brewer leaves her hair to Jean Strickland, in hopes that she'll be more successful in getting out the peroxide.

Audrey Bryson leaves her fingernails to Mary Ann Gold.

Jane Church leaves her originality to Elizabeth Maxcy. Elizabeth Ann Clinard bequeaths her Sammy Kaye walk to Jane Schubert.

Catherine Coulter leaves her love of dieting to Lindsay Tate.

Beth Davis leaves some of her men to girls caught in the man-power shortage.

Betty Davis wills her vocal ability to Sarah Jeanne Pierle.

Gertrude Febiger bequeaths her spelling ability to Ethel Bauman.

Eleanor Garrett leaves her "Swoonatra" touch to Mary Akers.

Christine Gray wills her quiet, unassuming manner to Ruth Harrison.

Zana Groome leaves her love of U. S. History to next year's class.

Dale Hilliard wills her deep voice to Marianna Moore —'nough said.

Julia Howard leaves her hundred dollar bills to charity.

Phyllis Hude bequeaths her dark complexion to Nancy Hammond.

Barbara Hudson leaves her subtle wit to Betsy Smith-Vaniz.

Annette Jordan wills her thoughtfulness and unselfishness to everybody, 'cause we could use it.

Lloyd Keener wills her S. A. to Eleanor Coyner.

Jane Lewis leaves her red hair to Margaret McIlwaine, as if it could be any redder.

Nancy McColl wills her vocabulary to Maryann Rogers, in hopes she will make as much use of it as she has.

Weze Matlock wills her fraternity pin to Jill Olds in case she doesn't find her Oak Ridge one.

June Montague bequeaths her vivacious spirit to Ruth Adams.

Doris Satterwhite leaves her energy to Skippy Pfanstiehl.

Margaret Ann Snipes wills her "Mr. Five by Five" to Nona McClure.

Merewyn Stollings leaves her wings to anyone who thinks she can take them away from her.

Dorothy Williams wills her curly hair to Betty Duty.

Carol Wohlford bequeaths her athletic ability to Polly Haywood.

Article IV

We here unto set our signatures and affix the seal on this, the last day of May, one thousand nine hundred and forty-four.

(Signed) THE CLASS OF 1944

Jean McSween

Audrey Bryson, Testators.

CLASS PROPHECY

There is a buzz from the outside office. The woman executive picks up the receiver and gives a brief "Come in!" In a few seconds the secretary, entering, puts down a rough copy of a magazine on the large desk, behind which is seated the editor of The Crystal Ball. She dismisses the secretary and picks up the magazine which is dated May 30, 1954. Beaming forth from the cover is a lovely photograph of Ann Abernethy, "Mrs. America" for the year. The slight smile which catches the lips of the editor makes her approval of the picture apparent.

With the opening of the copy she sees a full page advertisement sponsored by "Glamour Grin" tooth-paste. This editor recognizes the model with the gorgeous grin as Dorothy Williams, now an up-and-coming New York model.

A turn of the page shows a number of "Letters to the Editor." One of the first is signed by Gertie Febiger and comes from Hawaii. Miss Febiger is writing in to point out a mistake in the article on the hula, which was published a few weeks ago. Beneath the letter from Hawaii is one from the Department of Science at Columbia University. This commentary notes that, contrary to the facts printed in a recent issue of The Crystal Ball, the discoverer of the new use of CO₂ is Carol Wohlford, B.S., now a chemistry professor at Columbia.

In the Book-of-the-Month Club's section, a long review is given about the latest best-seller A Little Bit South of North Carolina, by the prominent author Nancy McColl.

This week's "Speaking of Pictures" features current cheese-cakes photos, with Audrey Bryson and Elizabeth Ann Clinard among those pictured.

On the opposite page is a large colored advertisement with the slogan "The way to a man's heart is via his stomach. The sure way to get your man is revealed in the latest edition of Mother Hude's Cookbook, only 39c at your neighborhood five and dime. Get one today!" Below this masterpiece of manuscript is a photograph of Mother Hude, wearing an apron and mixing one of her well known concoctions.

The editor's page is next, with the name Dale Hilliard topping the list as editor-in-chief; and down the list follows June Montague's name as photographer.

The most important news article of the week concerns the campaign of Jane Lewis, who is running for Senator from the Cashier's district. Her campaign promises include "More money in the Cashier's registers."

The editor notes that the "Picture of the Week" is titled "Ballet Dancer Takes a Spill." The undignified pose seems to be of the famed dancer Jane Church.

The sports' feature names Lloyd Keener as winner of the coveted honor that of being National Olympics' swimming champion.

Turning over to the "Movie of the Week," she sees that the movie is the sequel to "Gone to the Wind," "Rhett Blows In." It seems that the star is Annette Jordan, who is knocking audiences cold with her southern accent. The picture was directed by Christine Gray, that director who takes off every Saturday afternoon to see all of the movies showing in town. Some fisherman's holiday.

There is a section of several pages on the opening of the new night club "Julia's Joint." There are a number of pictures taken at the gala affair, by The Crystal Ball photographer June Montague. One of these photos shows the owner of the club, Julia Howard. The name-band which furnishes the music is Merewyn and her Mad Musicians. Orchids are predominant in the decorations.

Among those present at the opening were Weze and Jack Peacock, out celebrating their tenth anniversary; Catherine Coulter, looking for prospects for her date bureau; and Archer Bennett with her latest husband.

All of the guests seem to be yo-yo-ing, while the yo-yo magnate, Betty Ashe, sits back in her ringside seat and beams with satisfaction. With Miss Ashe is her assistant, Eleanor Garrett, who designs the yo-yos. Especially popular are the dressy yo-yos, which are decorated with sequin motifs.

This week "The Crystal Ball Goes to Morris' Service," that popular gathering place in Winston-Salem, of which the joint owners are Betty Davis and Jean Brewer. Behind the counter is Zana Groome, tossing together cheese sandwiches, but eating more than she is selling. Detective Margaret Ann Snipes has stopped in to get a "coke" while out searching for clues in the murder case which she is working on now. The only lead she has is the cigarette case which was found on the body. Doris Satterwhite is over in the corner putting nickels in the juke-box to hear "China Conga."

One of the "Pictures to the Editor" comes from a fond mother of Greensboro, North Carolina, who signs herself as Frankie Bluhm Parker. She is submitting a snapshot of her remarkable son, Frankie Sinatra Parker, who is already crooning at eighteen months. Another picture is sent in by Anna Beth Davis, agricultural leader of Clayton, which she took of her prize pea.

Closing the copy, the editor scrawls a big "okay" across the front.

ALMA MATER

School of ages, still aspiring
School of fame:
Mothers, daughters seek to honor
Thy great name;
Salem, may we true and loyal ever be;
Salem, may you hear our singing—
Love we're bringing all to thee.

School of ages, thy great spirit
Gives us power
To make free and joyous progress
Hour by hour.
Honor, splendor, love and glory
Thine shall be
Through our lives will shine thy blessing
Alma Mater, hail to thee!

Experience

LYNCHBURG ENGRAVED ANNUALS ARE
BUILT UPON YEARS OF EXPERIENCE
AS SPECIALISTS IN THE FIELD OF SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS

IN successfully fulfilling the requirements of the modern College Annual Staff we have combined a comprehensive and systematic servicing program with that high standard of quality so essential in the production of fine yearbooks. Lynchburg engraved annuals are built by an organization specializing on school annuals exclusively, thereby assuring each staff of the personal and intelligent assistance so necessary in the planning and designing of a truly satisfactory book.
